COMMUNION

Well, between visiting another school, fighting the flu, and working overtime for Mega Foods, I guess I sorta lost track of Fanboy for awhile. Sorry it took so long to get this issue out. Anyhow, on the next page, I printed one of Teng Xiong's great Wolverine drawings (Hope Marvel doesn't sue me). Teng's been making drawings like this for years, and his art looks better than ever in print. On the last page is an ad for Nate Le Barron's new comic. Something about a duck I think....
